Get more of the right prospects

- Quickly build a highly targeted list of qualified prospects from our database of 19 million companies and 100 million contacts worldwide.
- Customize your list using dozens of filters, including news, keywords, and buyer intent signals, so you can engage the highest priority prospects with timely, valuable messages.
- Keep your account and contact data complete and up-to-date with one-click data update, for more accurate targeting.

Better engage with prospects

- Get the latest and most actionable news about your prospects through our curated news and social insights.
- Be alerted to buyer intent signals and business events that give you compelling reasons to reach out to prospects, such as company expansions, leadership changes, relocations, acquisitions, and financial updates.
- Receive daily news alerts directly to your inbox so you can act swiftly, before the competition, and engage while events are still fresh.

Connect through your relationships

- Get warm introductions to your prospects with our comprehensive relationship network that puts you degrees closer to every lead.
- See relationships that are aggregated across multiple social networks and contact databases to give you the most complete view of your connections.
- Get secure, permission-only access to your co-workers' contacts to find connections that are kept private to just your company.

InsideView B2B Data and Intelligence

InsideView's business-to-business (B2B) data and intelligence is aggregated from more than 40,000 news, financial, editorial, and social sources. It's validated using a powerful combination of artificial and human intelligence, delivering detailed data about markets, companies and buyers, along with insights, buyer intent signals, and connections, so your go-to-market teams know exactly who to target, why and when to reach out, and how to connect.
